The Whitmor Company, Inc. started its relationship with CERIC in July 2021.

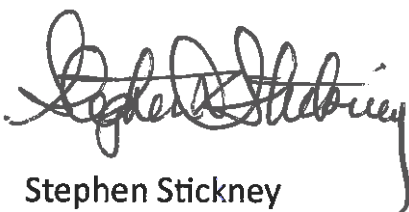

As manufacturers of power distribution control panels for the US Government, Whitmor requires and demands vendors who are capable of quality workmanship and non-deviation from cited specifications and procedures.

Our history was one of compliance with the Nuclear Navy and associated military specifications. Our present has not deviated far from same. Attention to detail is of utmost concern. We inspect 100% of all components sourced and out-sourced for each and every project, accepting nothing less than perfection.

CERIC has proven to us through delivered product and direct communication that they take this task seriously. We have accepted 100% their delivered hardware after each order undergoing complete review.

We consider CERIC a valued vendor and they have earned the increase in our business with them in the past 3 years.

Respectfully submitted,

Stephen Stickney
